About JUKUS

JUKUS is a specialized organization dedicated to supporting youth, culture, and sports in the Graz & Styria region of Austria. For the past 12 years, JUKUS has been actively involved in promoting intercultural and socio-cultural activities, aiming to highlight the positive aspects of a diverse society and raise public awareness for collectiveness and common interests. The organization is committed to equal treatment and non-discrimination. The main fields of work at JUKUS are culture projects, health, youth centre, and community work.

Role of the volunteer

We are currently seeking a volunteer who can contribute to culture and media projects, such as exhibitions, events, and social media content, specifically related to migration and integration. We are looking for candidates with skills in social media, photography, and video-making, as well as an interest in migration and integration topics. Additionally, the volunteer will assist the team with events, library management, and office tasks as well as in the creation of window displays. There are also two other ESC projects at our organization, providing the volunteer with opportunities to engage with other social initiatives. This voluntary position offers a unique opportunity to be part of impactful intercultural projects, supporting youth and fostering a sense of togetherness in a diverse society.

Volunteer's Experience

"It's the best thing I've ever done for myself," says Orkan from Turkey about joining the #EUSolidarityCorps. Orkan took part in the JUKUS project and helped to create an exhibition for the 20th anniversary of JUKUS. He's being honest: "Sometimes I almost feel selfish for saying that because technically you volunteer for a cause, not for yourself. But I get so much out of feeling like I'm doing some tangible good in the world. Getting into a whole new environment and meeting tons of people turned out to be much more rewarding than I thought. Besides all the hiking trails, nature, and great buildings, I got a chance to experience a completely different culture."
